Shino Bay Cosmetic Dermatology & Laser Institute cited as “Center of Excellence”

By Cynosure Inc, a Laser-Based Aesthetic Medical Company

Ft. Lauderdale, FL (December 20, 2007)---Cynosure, Inc., a leading developer and manufacturer of aesthetic and medical lasers and other light based technology, announces that it has named Shino Bay Cosmetic Dermatology & Laser Institute of Ft. Lauderdale, FL, as a “Center of Excellence”.

To be designated a Cynosure Center of Excellence, a practice or institution must meet at a list of demanding criteria: the center’s principals provide start-of-the-art aesthetic medicine to consumers, offer training to their peer-group, and conduct clinical or market research in current aesthetic treatments.

“This is an exciting opportunity to evaluate new technology from Cynosure, Inc. and provide our patients with the latest aesthetic treatments” said Dr. Aguilera, Medical Director for Shino Bay Cosmetic Dermatology & Laser Institute. “It also gives me the opportunity to share information with other physicians at workshops and academic meetings throughout the world.”

“Dermatologists, and their patients, are seeking newer and less-invasive procedures for rejuvenating their skin and underlying tissues. Patients want to look healthy, refreshed and youthful.” said Dr. Aguilera, a prominent dermatologist and leading authority in the field of aesthetic medicine.

“This is an exciting time for aesthetic and anti-aging medicine and we are pleased to have selected Shino Bay Cosmetic Dermatology & Laser Institute as a leading educational center,” said Michael Davin, President, Chairman and CEO of Cynosure, Inc.
